This document is neither a solicitation to buy nor an offer to sell securities, and it is not intended as investment advice. Information contained herein reflects our judgment or interpretation at the time of publication and is subject to change without notice. This information, including gross historical performance, pertains solely to the theoretical model portfolios published by Sabrient Systems LLC. Sabrient is not responsible for the usage of such portfolios by any third party, including without limitation the Baker's Dozen UITs sponsored by First Trust. In addition, the performance numbers herein do not reflect the deduction of brokerage commissions, execution fees, or other expenses that may be paid by any third party making its own investment in the portfolios. First Trust UITs are subject to fees, NAV on purchase date, and variations in construction of the portfolios, which may over time reduce performance of such UITs in comparison with the performance of Sabrient's model portfolios.

Summary Talking Points

1. Sabrient leverages a process-driven methodology developed by former engineers and forensic accountants to build quantitative, fundamentals-based, multifactor models and a “quantamental” (quantitative screen plus fundamental review & selection) approach (Slides 4-5).
2. The Baker’s Dozen Annual Model Portfolio launched January 2009 (near bottom of Global Financial Crisis). Over the full 17 years, it shows an average annual gross total return of +20.3% vs. +14.7% for SPY, outperforming SPY in 12 of the 17 years (Slide 6).
3. Our suite of portfolios includes quarterly Baker’s Dozen, Dividend, and Small Cap Growth, and annual Forward Looking Value. Of our most recent portfolios, 28 of 33 (85%) have outperformed or stayed close to their benchmarks (gross total return), including 100% of Dividend portfolios (Slide 8).
4. The NEW! Q1 2026 Baker’s Dozen launched on 1/20 with 13 concentrated positions across a diverse group of Large/Mid/Small caps (3/7/3) and a 10/3 split between Growth/Value, reflecting a strong SMID and Growth bias (Slide 7). The Baker’s Dozen is designed to offer the potential for outsized gains — for example, Q1 2024 portfolio had gross total return +45.7% vs. SPY +8.2% (Slide 9), and Q3 2024 portfolio is +41.7% vs. +24.1% for SPY (Slide 11).
5. The latest Small Cap Growth 49 launched on 12/19. It provides an alpha-seeking alternative to a passive position in the Russell 2000 Index for small-cap exposure in anticipation of improving market breadth.
6. The latest Dividend 54 launched on 11/6 and offers a 3.44% current yield (as of 1/16). It employs a GARP & Income strategy, offering bond-proxy income while seeking capital appreciation from quality companies with a solid growth history and reliable dividends.
7. The annual Forward Looking Value 13 launched on 8/15 with a small/mid-cap bias. It is a less-concentrated and more value-oriented version of Baker’s Dozen and offers an alpha-seeking alternative to a passive position in the S&P 500 Value Index. It is now in secondary market and closed to new investors.
8. One key alpha factor is our Earnings Quality Rank (EQR), an accounting-based risk assessment signal used in all our portfolio strategies. It is also licensed as a quality prescreen to the First Trust Long-Short ETF (FTLS), an actively managed, low-beta portfolio that has eclipsed $2.15 billion in AUM.
9. Our Sector Rotation Model Portfolio is bullish and suggests holding Technology, Basic Materials, and Industrials (Slide 17).
10. Uncertainty persists with trade deals, wars, federal debt, civil strife, midterm elections, Fed policy, and high valuations, but fundamental tailwinds outweigh headwinds, in our view, so investors are positioning for a strong 2026 on continued AI optimism, robust capex, rising global liquidity, tax and interest rate cuts, disinflationary trends, deregulation, re-privatization, re-industrialization, and rising productivity/margins/earnings (Slides 18-19).
11. Rather than the pricey passive cap-weighted indexes dominated by Big Tech, investors may be better served by active stock selection that seeks under-the-radar and undervalued gems primed for explosive growth. This is what Sabrient aims to do in our various portfolios, all of which provide exposure to Value, Quality, Growth, and Size factors and to both secular and cyclical growth trends.

Sabrient Portfolios: leveraging our “quantamental” approach

- Q1 2026 Baker’s Dozen (quarterly, 13 stocks) launched 1/20/2026
 - ⇒ Our flagship product is a concentrated, all-cap, alpha-seeking portfolio that balances value/cyclical growth with high-quality secular growers

- Small Cap Growth 49 (quarterly, 47 stocks) launched 12/19/2025
 - ⇒ Alpha-seeking alternative to the passive Russell 2000 for small cap exposure
 - ⇒ May benefit from rate cuts, improving market breadth, and rotation to small-mid cap

- Dividend 54 (quarterly, 44 stocks) launched 11/6/2025
 - ⇒ High-quality GARP + Income portfolio; bond-proxy income with capital appreciation
 - ⇒ Current Yield of 3.44% on NAV as of 1/16/2026

- Forward Looking Value 13 (annual, 28 stocks) launched 8/15/2025
 - ⇒ Less-concentrated and more value-oriented version of the Baker’s Dozen
 - ⇒ May benefit from improving market breadth and mean reversion of Value vs. Growth

Company Overview

➤ Sabrient Systems LLC:

- Independent equity research provider and registered investment advisor (RIA) founded in 2000
- Quantitative fundamentals-based multifactor models created by:
 - ✓ team of engineers and analysts led by founder David Brown, a former NASA engineer on the Apollo 11 moon landing project, and CEO Scott Martindale, a former Chevron engineer
 - ✓ team of forensic accounting specialists from Gradient Analytics, a wholly owned Sabrient subsidiary
- Process-driven, bottom-up methodology leveraging a scientific hypothesis-testing approach to model development
- Unlike most RIAs, we don't manage investor money directly but instead receive licensing/consulting fees

➤ Products & Services:

- Quantitative equity research, models and data sets, rankings of stocks & ETFs, online investor tools, and insightful market commentaries
- Portfolio strategies for various investing styles, stock portfolios for UITs and SMAs, rules-based equity indexes for ETFs
- Best known for our Baker's Dozen franchise, a 13-stock portfolio first introduced in 2009 based on a proprietary Growth at a Reasonable Price (GARP) "quantamental" approach
- Baker's Dozen and 3 other offshoot strategies offered as UITs through First Trust Portfolios
- 8 core proprietary multi-factor models, including the Earnings Quality Rank (EQR), an accounting-based risk signal designed by subsidiary Gradient Analytics and used internally for Sabrient portfolios. It is also licensed to hedge funds and to the First Trust Long-Short ETF (FTLS).

Our “Quantamental” Approach

1. Quantitative screen to narrow large eligible universe (50-100 names)

Forward P/E, forward EPS growth, recent dynamics of analyst consensus estimates, earnings quality (based on expertise of subsidiary Gradient Analytics), consistency & reliability of earnings growth

2. Fundamental analysis to identify top candidates (approx. 25 names)

Still mainly numbers-driven, but not algorithmic

3. Final Stock Selection (13 names)

Manual process, adhering to sector concentration limits

We believe a GARP strategy is “all-weather.” So, what could go wrong? Two things:

- 1) Consensus EPS estimates are reduced after portfolio launch or the company fails to achieve them.
- 2) Investor sentiment turns defensive, leading to narrow market breadth and avoidance of lesser-known firms.

Note: This applies to Baker's Dozen selection, but we employ a similar approach for all portfolios (adjusted for appropriate universe or investment mandate).

This high-performance portfolio was led by 6 big winners—most notably AI-driven marketing software firm AppLovin, plus several recognizable names: entertainment powerhouse Netflix, mega-cap market darling NVIDIA (dominant in AI chips), cellular network carrier T-Mobile, and major cruise line Royal Carib.

They offset 4 laggards from oil & gas, retail apparel manufacturing, auto parts, and information management software

The portfolio greatly outperformed all relevant large cap, mid-cap, and small-cap benchmarks including both cap-weight and equal-weight by a wide margin (gross total return).

This portfolio illustrates the power of having a few big winners within a concentrated portfolio—even in a weak or stagnant market.

Sabrient's Outlook Score employs a forward-looking fundamentals-based scoring algorithm to create a composite profile of the constituent stocks. Bull Score and Bear Score are based on price behavior of the underlying stocks on particularly strong and weak days over the prior 40 market days. High Bull indicates a tendency for relative strength in a strong market, and high Bear indicates a tendency for relative strength in a weak market (i.e., safe havens). High for all scores is 100, and higher is better.

Our SectorCast rankings reflect a slightly bullish bias, as cyclicals and secular growth sectors tend toward the top while key defensive sectors are near the bottom. Technology remains firmly at the top despite a high valuation as investors are willing to pay up for strong growth and high margins.

Stock prices and valuations pulled back in Q4 on defensive investor sentiment from the many macro uncertainties and growing concerns of an AI bubble and Fed rate-cut reluctance. But the pullback was bought on renewed optimism about rate cuts and rising productivity from AI implementation, as well as strong GDP and earnings growth forecasts, stable inflation, falling interest rates, and fiscal stimulus (tax cuts and deregulation)—although jobs growth has been stagnant and consumer sentiment is dicey. Although January is off to a fast start, look for more volatility in Q1.

Technology still displays the highest forward P/E (28.2x) but remains atop the rankings due to strong and rising EPS growth estimates (22.4%), a reasonable forward PEG ratio (1.26), the best sell-side analyst earnings revisions (along with Financials), by far the highest profit margins and return ratios, and the strongest insider buying. Telecom has the lowest forward P/E (13.9x), while Basic Materials enjoys the lowest forward PEG (0.93).

Our Sector Rotation Model Portfolio reflects a bullish bias based on S&P 500 being above both its 50-day and 200-day moving averages. So, the model suggests holding Technology (IYW), Basic Materials (IYM), and Industrials (IYJ)—followed closely by Financials (IYF).

Market Observations & Outlook - 1/2

1. Stocks finished 2025 strong, just missing a 3rd straight 20%+ total return for the S&P 500, up +17.7% (although Nasdaq 100 hit +20.8%). Valuations remain high but are more reasonable minus Big Tech concentrations. To illustrate, the forward P/E on cap-weighted Nasdaq 100 (QQQ)=26.2x and S&P 500 (SPY)=23.0x, but equal-weight Nasdaq 100 (QQQE)=22.0x and S&P 500 (RSP)=18.0x, while S&P 600 small-cap (SPSM)=15.9x, as of 1/16/2026. Notably, these multiples have shown some recent convergence.
2. Uncertainty persists with trade deals, Ukraine/Russia war, Venezuela, federal debt, civil strife, political polarization, midterm elections, Fed policy, high valuations, a weak jobs market, signs of consumer distress, and a government shutdown redux. However, stock and bond market volatility is subdued, and credit spreads remain tight. Forecasts for growth and corporate margins & earnings are strong as the private sector retakes its rightful place as the primary engine of growth, with much more efficient capital allocation and ROI than government bureaucrats' decisions. Disinflationary trends have resumed, including implementation of AI and automation, rising productivity, falling shelter and energy costs, peace deals, a firmer dollar, and the deflationary impulse on the world from a struggling China.
3. We believe fundamental tailwinds outweigh headwinds, and indeed investors seem to be positioning for a solid 2026 on continued AI optimism, robust capex for AI and re-industrialization, looser Fed monetary policy, rising global liquidity, full enactment of the One Big Beautiful Bill Act (OBBBA), tax and interest rate cuts, smaller government, deregulation, and re-privatization. This should continue to attract foreign capital into the US, cut the debt and deficit-to-GDP ratio, and unleash organic private sector growth, with stock valuations driven by rising earnings rather than multiple expansion.

4. The Fed remains behind the curve. A terminal fed funds rate near 3.0% seems right, and fed funds futures suggest 58% odds we get there by the end of 2026. Bond yields have normalized with 10-year Treasury below 4.20%. The economy needs lower interest rates (including a 30-year mortgage rate well below 6%) in tandem with business-friendly fiscal policy to: a) sustain rising global liquidity, b) relieve indebted consumers and businesses, c) support US and global economies, and d) avert a global credit crisis.
5. At the core of an equity portfolio still should be US Big Tech stocks, given their entrepreneurial culture, disruptive innovation, wide moats, global scalability, huge cash stores, resilient and durable earnings growth, and world-leading margins, ROI, and free cash flow. But a broadening market, falling interest rates, and rising liquidity suggest opportunities in small/mid caps, value, quality, cyclicals, equal-weight indexes, and sectors like industrials, financials, materials, and healthcare, plus dividend stocks, commodities, and bitcoin.
6. Rather than the passive cap-weighted indexes, investors may be better served by active stock selection that seeks to identify under-the-radar, undervalued, high-quality gems primed for explosive growth. This is what Sabrient seeks to do in our various portfolios, all of which provide exposure to Value, Quality, Growth, and Size factors and to both secular and cyclical growth trends.

(or simply paste that final identifier code into the search on your Amazon mobile app)

David has written a number of other books through the years. In this one, he describes his path from NASA engineer on the Apollo moon landing program to building quant models for stock rankings.

But the book's main goal is to share David's approach to creating stock portfolios for four key investing styles—Growth, Value, Dividend, and Small Cap Growth—which serve as the underlying strategies for Sabrient's Baker's Dozen, Forward Looking Value, Dividend, and Small Cap Growth portfolios.

Our "Next-Gen" Sabrient Scorecards:

You also are invited to access the next generation of our "Sabrient Scorecard for Stocks," which provides a weekly Top 30 stocks list for each of those four key investing strategies (using their underlying quant models). You can also paste your own list of tickers on the Score Your Own Stocks tab to monitor their alpha-factor scores.

I invite you to take advantage of the Free Download offer for the stock scorecard.

As a bonus, we provide a weekly "Sabrient Scorecard for ETFs" with the Top 30 ETFs based on our SectorCast Outlook Score, plus access to the Full Universe of scores for nearly 1,500 equity ETFs.

Both scorecards are user friendly for anyone with a basic knowledge of Excel. You can easily sort a list by a given alpha factor, or weight factors to your preferences and then sort the list by Weighted Score.
